

- You are having a lovely picnic when suddenly, dark clouds roll in and it starts to rain! What do you use?
- You fall down and skin your knee. Ow. What can you use?
- You've just found the perfect picnic spot. It's so quiet and restful next to the swamp. The swamp? On no! Mosquitos! Lots of them! They're starting to bite you! What do you use?
- You and your friend are feeling adventurous and decide to picnic underground. As you enter the deep, dark cave, what should you use?
- A picnic on a boat sounds delightful. Until your friend tumbles into the water while opening a jar of pickles. What can you use to help him?
- You decide to take a different way home from your picnic, not realizing there is a huge river to cross. You need to swing across somehow. What do you use?
- You are finishing the last of your delicious picnic feast when a DRAGON emerges from the woods, breathing fire and waving two pointy sticks! What do you think she wants to use?